Students pursue the US curriculum at Corvuss, which is based on American Common Core State Standards for English Language, Arts, Math, History/Geography, and Next Generation Science Standards for Science. At the end of high school, students, who successfully complete all their requirements, are awarded a Diploma and also provided with a Grade Point Average (GPA), which takes into account overall academic performance, classroom participation, group work, projects and attendance. The US curriculum at our school offers tremendous flexibility for the student athlete, allowing him or her to focus on academics as well as training, nutrition and conditioning, honing their skills without feeling the pressure of stern requirements and timeframes.

The school's in-house physiotherapy centre plays an indispensable role in promoting the physical well-being of our students. From injury prevention and early detection to treatment and rehabilitation, their expertise helps students recover from injuries, maintain optimal health, and enhance their athletic performance.

By providing individualised care and education, our physiotherapist empowers students to take charge of their physical well-being, ensuring they can pursue their athletic goals with confidence and resilience.
